

Fatal

Motionless In White

I see your eyes, (so) convincing
I saw everything that night
You were the quiet actress
A flawed masterpiece

So cold, our darkest days
Sleepless, our darkest nights
Line after line, but love is... forever

A beauty bound in cold silver
Broken bottles and empty locket
Exhaling bittersweet
Your words were laced in gold
A gilded memoir engraved into my soul

Do you remember
That night you led me astray?
Do you recall, tainting me, with your apathy?

Encapsulating
Mutilated our malice, our intoxicated
Advocating lust for a cause

It's raining sulphur tonight
An anti-climatic procession
Yielding an undying, uniformed Prestige

So cold, our darkest days
Sleepless, our darkest nights
Line after line, but love is never

Encapsulating
Mutilated our malice, our intoxicated
Advocating, lust for a cause

You walked away that night
Instilled virtue
A fatal kiss, my muse, there's
Nothing I can do for you

A cordial gaze pierces
Sending chills down the nape of my Porcelain neck
My blood runs cold

Please don't forget me
Long live that sentiment
Please don't forget me
These words are all I have

Encapsulating
Mutilated our malice, our intoxicated
Advocating, lust for a cause

You just walked away that night
Instilled virtue
A fatal kiss my muse there's
Nothing I can do for you

(I saw your eyes)
Blow the last candle out
Recoil, finish what we started
For you, I'll take this to my grave
Forever

Please forgive me for wondering
If my love ever truly
Engraved in your heart
Like the finest poetry on concrete
