

I Want You

Lindi Ortega

There will be angels,
There will be devils,
I will be in-between
But I cross that line some of the time
And lately I've been mean
A little bit of sugar
A little bit of spice,
Whatever you desire,
If it's gonna burn, honey you will you learn
I'm not afraid to play with fire
I want you to want me
I want you to want me
I want you to want me
I want you to want me
There will be light
There will be darkness
I will be in the shade
Creepin in the corner
Nothin but a former
Shadow of the girl you played
I'm hangin up in my halo
Getting out my pitchfork
You ain't seen nothing yet
Well I can be bad
I can drive you mad
Be the girl that you won't forget I want you to want me
I want you to want me
I want you to want me
I want you to want me Sweet and softy I will sing to you
Lullabies just like the angels do
Sweet and softly I will sing to you
But I can be the devil if you ask me to
I want you to want me
I want you to want me
I want you to want me
I want you to want me
