

Clocktower

Noosa

[Verse 1]

I want to run away to the left coast
Have an endless summer running through me
Fill the air with a new hope, a new hope
Just let it be, cut the cords around me
Never want to hold me back
Give me that one song letting me reach out
It's been eleven years and I'm still [?]
Found the garden of Eden
Tired of the homeland
Searching from the day I was born
I'm starting to forget how beautiful you are

[Chorus]

What we had is not enough
But we care to fight for love
Maybe you and I could fly the distance
Oh but I've been away too long
What we have is not enough
But we care to fight for love
What we have is not enough
What we have is meant for love
We can't give up

[Verse 2]

I have listened close to the voices
Singing to the rhythm of my blood
And they're begging me to follow myself home
Where the air is clear, pure as diamonds
Near the waters where the mermaids sing
Show me the sign like burning the candles
Looking in the flames of gold

[Chorus]

[Outro]

I want to run away
I want to run away
I want to run away
I want to run away

We can't give up

Lyrics provided by <https://www.songlyrics.band/>