

This Life

Primer 55

You've got no self-esteem, and you think you're so mistreated. you can't stand your face, and you cannot, cannot believe that you cannot control your fate This isn't what you wanted someone to break you down every motherfucking day it's not the life you wanted someone to break you, someone to make you Bruises on your face, I guess you fell down the steps again
and that's such a shame, cause you let it, you let it happen over and over again
This isn't what you wanted
someone to break you down every motherfucking day
it's not the life you wanted
someone to break you, someone to make you It's just another day, the last day he touches you again.
but that's the price he'll pay. you pull the trigger, it all goes away in one determind flash This isn't what you wanted
someone to break you down every motherfucking day
it's not the life you wanted
someone to break you, someone to make you Pay!! close you eyes, you better, hold em' tight, you'll never,
don't keep telling yourself it'll be alright,
don't keep telling yourself it'll be alright.
This isn't what you wanted
someone to break you down every motherfucking day
it's not the life you wanted
someone to break you, someone to make you Pay!! close you eyes, you better, hold em' tight, you'll never,
don't keep telling yourself it'll be alright,
don't keep telling yourself it'll be alright.

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <https://www.songlyrics.band/>