

My, You Look Ravishing Tonight!

Kleenex Girl Wonder

I remember when you'd take my hand
And ask me if I liked your favorite band
I said, "Yes. Well, they're alright, I guess
But they're growing on me less each day"
Now I must admit that the game is stale
Everything's the same but the flame has bailed
I say, "Please, my favorite band is Squeeze
I have all of their CDs except for Babylon and On"

I see you in the doorway
Ice blue like Norway eyes in the vanishing light
Oh, flattery is my forte
But I'll say no more, say no more
You look ravishing tonight!
Ice bluer than Norway eyes
Nothing matters this time
Oh, flattery is my forte
But I'll say no more, say no more
But you look ravishing tonight!

And I can't believe myself
It's rather obvious that you need my help
So I'll stay, if you want me to stay
I've got nothing left to say anyway
It's easy to forget that I'm not alone
Every time I call and you're not at home
I let it ring, you don't mean anything
Oh, you mean everything and it's making me cry

I see you on the staircase
Descending like hair, face, and eyes
Detached from your mind
Oh, I look out to the road
With every doubt on the globe and say
My, you look ravishing tonight!
Descending like hair, face, and eyes
Detached from time
Oh, I look out to the road
With every doubt on the globe and say
My, you look ravishing tonight!
