

Breathe

Lauv

I've watched those eyes light up with a smile
River in the not good times
Oh, you taught me all that I know I've seen your soul grow just like a rose
Made it through all of those thorns
Grow into the woman I know And it's killing me, me to say "I'm fine," "I'm fine"
When I really mean, mean to say. You're my all and more
All I know you taught me, yeah
You're my all and more
But I need room to breathe, yeah
I found New York laying in your arms
We'll melt into the bedroom floor
Never knew I'd stay for so long And this truth cuts not through one, but both
Not through one, but both of us
But it's deeper if I hold on And it's killing me, me to say "I'm fine," "I'm fine"
When I really mean, mean to say. You're my all and more
All I know you taught me, yeah
You're my all and more
But I need room to breathe, yeah Gotta breathe for me, it's now or never Gotta breathe for me, it's now or never I should leave, 'cause you deserve better, better Gave my all and more
But I need room to be me
You're my all and more
All I know you taught me, yeah
You're my all and more
But I need room to breathe, yeah Breathe
Breathe

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by <https://www.songlyrics.band/>