

Strong Enough

Evan Olson

All of my life I've been waiting in vain
To get to the point, the point of anything
Even without all these things I can't feel
I'm running away from what I know is real

So do what you do if you never had the time
I've been hanging around trying to be myself tonight
And all of these things that we take for granted
We will solve and show we can pay the rent

To me am I strong enough to put up a fight?
Am I strong enough to make it through the night?
Am I brave enough to be who you see?
Am I rich enough to feed my family?
These warnings inside have been wanting to show
But I can't be sure of what I just don't know
Although I believe I can handle the stress
I still don't know how I got into this mess

So don't be afraid when the walls come tumbling down
I keep standing tall and keep your feet flat on the ground
'Cause when news travels fast but you're the last to take it in
We'll run to the top and we'll ride it again

To me am I strong enough to put up a fight?
Am I strong enough to make it through the night?
Am I brave enough to be who you see?
Am I rich enough to feed my family?

So do what you do if you never had the time
I've been hanging around trying to find myself tonight
And all of these words that we take for granted
We'll solve and show we can pay the rent

To me am I strong enough to put up a fight?
Am I strong enough to make it through the night?
Am I brave enough to be who you see?
Am I rich enough to feed my family?

Am I strong enough?
Am I strong enough?
Am I brave enough?
Am I rich enough?
