

The Sun's Also a Stand-Up Comic

Kleenex Girl Wonder

[Verse 1]

I've got a lot on my mind, but I've got nothing to say
I'm not just dreaming this time, yes, I've got a lot on my mind
And nothing, nothing's going to stand in my way

[Chorus]

Everything you think about is something you can't explain
And I can't live without you, girl, but I can't complain
Girl, I mean business and I won't be cast away
So I'll treat every day like it's my last day

[Verse 2]

The sun's a stand-up comic laughing at the red in our cheeks
The moon's a blues musician, he won't care if we don't listen
He's efficient, he won't miss our pompous critiques

[Chorus]

Everything you think about is something you can't explain
And I can't live without you, girl, but I can't complain
Oh, I mean business and I won't be cast away
So I'll treat every day like it's my last day

[Bridge]

What do you say when you can't think of anything?
You want it one way, but you'll settle for less
What do you say when you've said almost everything?
What do you say when there's nothing to say?

[Chorus]

Everything you think about is something you can't explain
And I can't live without you, girl, but I can't complain
Oh, I mean business and I won't be cast away
So I'll treat every day like it's my last day
