

Anne Marie

American Aquarium

Late night call from that old friend
Her voice it was shaking on the other end
She said "I didn't know who else to call"
I know he doesn't treat her right
But she'll crawl back into bed tonight
And lie awake wondering what could have been

[Chorus]

Oh Anne Marie
Won't you please please please
Tell me what has he done?
Oh Anne Marie
I'm begging you please
Get out while there's still time to run

Well he starts to yell when he starts to drink
And he starts a lot of trouble never stops to think
About the damage that is being done
Oh but one night the bourbon flooded his veins
Like raging black river of lust and pain
That'd be the last time that he'd raise his hands

She was shaking like a rocket on the boulevard
And her tears they were cold but her eyes they were hard
She returned that angel to the bedside drawer
She packed her bags and she moved away
He's the only reason that she ever stayed
Now she's out there living on the run

[Chorus]

Oh Anne Marie
Won't you please please please
Tell me what have you done
Oh Anne Marie
I'm begging you please
Get out while there's still time to run

Well my telephone it don't ring no more
And last I heard she's at the Jersey Shore
And If I believed in God I'd pray for you

But a prayer without belief
Is like a pill without relief
So I'll just save us both the lettin' down

[Chorus]

Oh Anne Marie
Won't you please please please
Tell me what have you done
Oh Anne Marie
I'm begging you please
Get out while there's still time to run
Stay out, please stay out on the run

Lyrics provided by <https://www.songlyrics.band/>