End of the World

Days pass by and the work never stops
Years tick by but you can't stop the clock
Daisies bloom they'll soon wilt away

People are born but we all decay
Buy new things just to watch them all break
So tired today I'm still awake
It's quiet right now but this beauty won't last
This normal life will soon be the past

From time to time the stars shine bright
Don't lose your mind
Stargazer

Work all day and the days turn to weeks
This empty road never felt so lonely
Messy hair and rain soaked shoes
Still trying to win but we always lose
Trees outside dancing in the breeze
Fall comes too fast with its fallen leaves
It's quiet right now but this beauty won't last
This normal life will soon be the past

From time to time the stars shine bright
Don't lose your mind
Stargazer
