SKOLD

[Verse 1]

I rather die for you
Than live for someone else
Meaningless in heaven
Indifferent in hell

[Chorus]

I want a photography of this point in time
The very moment when you draw the line
Like a memento of time left behind
That very moment when you lose your mind

[Verse 2]

I rather fight with you
Than pleasure someone else
Never mind my laughter
Save your king instead
All in vain
I'm drowning in the victory.
I'm still alive, I'm still alive
All in vain
I'm choking on the poetry
I'm still alive, I'm still alive

[Chorus]

I want a photography of this point in time
The very moment when you draw the line
Like a memento of time left behind
That very moment when you lose your mind

[Verse 2]

The mirror is broken and the border is crossed
But the reflection there, is never lost
All in vain
The gamble or the guarantee
I'm still alive, I'm still alive
All in vain
Uncertain probability
I'm still alive, I'm still alive

[Chorus]

I want a photography of this point in time
The very moment when you draw the line
Like a memento of time left behind
That very moment when you lose your mind
