

Watch the Walls Melt Down

Matisyahu

I watch the walls melt down
Watch them fade away
Throw my hands to the sky I watch the walls melt down
Watch them fade away
I took my freedom back
I packed up the knapsack
I'm not cracked yet Today is my day
I turned 34
I live by the moon
In the shade for real Left side
Victory is near
Broken circles
Incomplete dreams
In the box
Out the box
Covered in tar
But I'll always be your
Chassidic reggae super star Breaking out
Listening close
Dancing on tables
With my hands in the air Initials MM
Lead from with in
In a box in the sky
Flying over the night
Coast to coast
Continents small world
End of the world
Or maybe I'm trippin
Flashing lights
Wings spread I don't want your answers anymore
I'm headed for the door
I live for the core I watch the walls melt down
Watch them fade away
Throw my hands to the sky
I watch the walls melt down
Watch them fade away
I took my freedom back
I packed up the knapsack
I'm not cracked yet
I watch the walls melt down
Watch them fade away
Throw my hands to the sky

I watch the walls melt down
Watch them fade away
I took my freedom back
I packed up the knapsack I'm on a night walk where talk is cheap
The reapers close and the willows weep
And they wail try and fail you will win one day
If I may raise my soul from purgatory
And go dance on a wave
While the people wave and the mountains raise
Speak the truth must come from a slave
Smoked more trees than a forest fire till that ish got tired now I let the ish retire gettin higher then a mountain climber lower then a lawn mower chopping down the cypher circle up its circle time
Stiff neck with aches in my spine weak from the smoke and I'm tired from the wine energy come back to me now come back take time what's mine claim my place and my name
Moonlight shines in your eyes I watch the walls melt down
Watch them fade away
Throw my hands to the sky
Watch them fade away
I took my freedom back
I'm not cracked yet.
Watch them fade away
Throw my hands to the sky
Watch them fade away
I took my freedom back
