

I Feel Fine

Slick Idiot

i don't care, whether it's truth or dare, whether it's it's fat or slim, whether it's good or mean.
i don't care, whether it's cool or hot,
whether it blows your top, whether it's hip or not.
it's all the same, everything's o.k., so many ways to live by!
i feel fine, whether it's your's or mine,
whether it's queer or square, whether it's here or there!
get a grip, you're starting now to make me sick, and really,
who are you? to give me just a choice of two?
i don't care, whether it's hard or fair, whether it's close or far, whether it's cooked or raw.
i feel fine!

i don't care, whether it's front or rear,
whether it's real or a steal, whether revealed or sealed.
it's all the same, everything's o.k., so many ways to live by!
you're light and joy, no piece of meat, so many ways to live by!
i feel fine, whether it's your's or mine,
whether it's queer or square, whether it's here or there!
get a grip, you're starting now to make me sick, and really,
who are you? to give me just a choice of two?
i don't hate, whether it's luck or fate,
whether it's sick or sad, whether it's nice or mad.
i feel fine, whether it's your's or mine,
whether it's queer or square, whether it's here or there!
get a grip, you're starting now to make me sick, and really,
who are you? to give me just a choice of two?
